FOOD INSECURITY

Food insecure households are not necessarily food insecure all of the time. Food insecurity may reflect a household's need to make trade-offs between important basic needs, such as housing or medical bills, and purchasing nutritionally adequate foods.

ERYAÑIZ 'S STORY

Eryañiz is a Puerto Rican teen enrolled in Hope Academy for Kids, a FAKH agency partner. She is fluent in both English and Spanish and acted as a translator while distributing food to neighbors in need over the summer - including her own family.

For many families like Eryañiz's, higher grocery bills - to replace breakfast and lunch that students would normally receive at school - make already stretched budgets tighter, and can leave many without resources to purchase back to school items such as clothes, notebooks and more.

As a volunteer, Eryañiz helps ensure that neighbors in her community are able to get the resources they need, without language being a barrier.
