FOOD INSECURITY

Food insecure households are not necessarily food insecure all of the time. Food insecurity may reflect a household's need to make trade-offs between important basic needs, such as housing or medical bills, and purchasing nutritionally adequate foods.

JUDY'S STORY

Judy has been visiting food distributions at True Gospel Fellowship for two years. Judy is a doting great-grandmother who cares for her five year old great-grandson. Unfortunately, her grandson has a health condition that limits his diet, specifically requiring him to avoid highly processed foods and sugar. When able, she incorporates the fresh fruit and vegetables that she receives from True Gospel into his diet. Taking items from her monthly Commodity Supplemental Food Program box, Judy also makes some of the best chili you've ever had. With your support, Judy can stretch her limited income to support her grandson and worry less about where their next meal is coming from.

“ I never expected to be raising another child at my age, but I want the best for him. ”
